

'Live' examples of Blended Learning

In this session the presenter will share his experiences with implementing blended learning practices in postgraduate and undergraduate courses. Examples of a few strategies will be shared along with the benefits and challenges encountered in experimenting with blended learning. The seminar will focus on the use of resources available at HKIEd. Ideally, participants will exchange their experiences and consider ways to improve instructional practice (both their own and that of the presenter).

20 February 2014 (Thu) 2:30 - 3:30 pm D2-LP-04, HKIEd

STAFF ONLY. RSVP needed: 2948 8862 / ckfchung@ied.edu.hk

Speaker:

Dr. Darren Bryant

Co-organized by:

Faculty of Education and Human Development
教育及人類發展學院

Learning & Teaching @HKIEd2014
Organizing Committee

Department of Education Policy and Leadership
教育政策與領導學系

Darren Bryant is Assistant Professor in the Department of Education Policy and Leadership and serves as Programme Coordinator for the International Executive Master of Arts in Educational Leadership and Change, a fully online postgraduate programme.