Dr Guri Skedsmo's research interests include school governance, evaluation, and school leadership. Currently, she is involved in two research projects on the use of assessment data, school inspection and external evaluation to improve schools. She also takes part in a newly started EU-project about integrating feedback and coaching as part of school leadership training. The last ten years she has been actively involved in developing professional development programs for school leaders and she teaches at the Master Programme in Educational Leadership at the University of Oslo.
