Darren Bryant is an Assistant Professor in the Department of Education Policy and Leadership at the Hong Kong Institute of Education. He holds concurrent positions as Associate Director of the Asia Pacific Centre for Leadership and Change, Managing Editor of the Journal of Educational Administration, and Programme Coordinator of the International Executive Master of Arts in Educational Leadership and Change—an online programme.

Prior to completing his PhD in the University of Hong Kong's Policy, Administration and Social Sciences Education department, he served for 12 years as a social sciences teacher and middle leader, holding positions of head of department and curriculum leader. These positions provided practical experience in leading teams involved in school-based curriculum development, program design and evaluation, and social sciences education.

Darren's research interests include: international school leadership, leader development and online leadership preparation.
